

EGO DASH TS Bluetooth Hands-Free Car Kit is now an official Toyota Part Number in Germany

SAN DIEGO (April 28, 2009) – EGO Corp USA, a leading provider of in-vehicle Bluetooth hands-free mobile communications, multimedia and entertainment solutions, today announced that the EGO DASH TS is now an official Toyota Accessory with its own part numbers in Germany. This allows any Toyota dealership in Germany to order the EGO DASH TS through the official Toyota Parts and Accessories computerized order system.

Hands-Free technology has a long history in Germany, due to the enactment of hands-free driving laws years ago. After rigorous testing procedures, Toyota Germany determined the EGO DASH TS as the best, fully integrated, easy to use Bluetooth hands-free solution available and assigned their own part numbers to it.

“This wasn’t a big surprise, because we know already that the EGO DASH TS is by far the best product out there, after testing and comparing it with our competitors’ products, especially when it comes to ease of use, echo and noise suppression. We are proud of this accomplishment and of the superiority of the EGO DASH TS!” said Nikolas Slupinski, Director of Marketing.

The EGO DASH TS, a fully-integrated OEM looking version of the popular EGO TALK, provides users with industry leading echo and noise suppression and the maximum possible user friendliness making the EGO DASH TS the ultimate Bluetooth Hands-Free solution for Toyota, Lexus and Scion vehicles. Incoming and outgoing calls mute the factory car-stereo.

Privacy mode allows switching the conversation back to the phone and the phones’ voice commands are accessible through the EGO DASH TS as well as full audio volume control.
